Truant claims that he was taken to a room inside the ship and that he was examined by aliens. He says that the aliens were tall and slender, with large heads and big eyes. He also claims that they communicated with him telepathically.

Truant says that the aliens told him that they were from a planet called Serpo. They told him that they had been visiting Earth for thousands of years, and that they were here to help us evolve.

Truant claims that he was taken back to his home the next morning. He says that he was changed by his experience, and that he has been working to help spread the message of the aliens ever since.
