The Story

Going Away to Think is the story of a man named John who quit his job, bought a van, and traveled the country in search of meaning. John had been working in a high-paying job in the tech industry, but he was unhappy and unfulfilled. He felt like he was living a life that was not his own, and he longed for something more.

One day, John decided to quit his job and buy a van. He sold all of his belongings and hit the road. He traveled for months, visiting different cities and towns, and meeting new people. Along the way, he learned about himself, the world, and the meaning of life.

John's story is an inspiring example of how we can all find meaning and purpose in our lives. It is a story about the power of adventure, self-discovery, and human connection.
