Max Lucado's "Of Beetles and Angels" is a captivating novel that delves into the complexities of faith, hope, loss, grief, healing, redemption, and forgiveness.

At the heart of the story is Rollie Spencer, a man whose life takes a tragic turn when his beloved wife, Sharon, passes away unexpectedly. Consumed by grief and despair, Rollie retreats into a world of isolation and bitterness. However, fate has other plans in store for him.

One fateful day, Rollie encounters a mysterious old man named Skipper, who claims to be an angel. At first, Rollie dismisses Skipper as a mere eccentric, but as he begins spending time with him, he discovers a profound wisdom that challenges his jaded worldview.

Through a series of poignant conversations and experiences, Skipper helps Rollie to confront his grief and find solace in the midst of his pain. He reveals that even in the darkest of times, hope can always be found, especially in the most unexpected of places.
